

Somewhere in the Heritage Centre is a display telling you about the '101 Dalmations' - a book written by Dodie Smith, who lived near Sudbury.

1 What did Dodie use to type up her work?

.....

2 Look carefully at her writing machine.

Do you think you can figure out how to work it?

(clue - there is no on switch!)

Which buttons will give you capital letters?

.....

3 Look, no ink cartridges, but you could type in red or black. How?

.....

4 What would happen if you made a mistake?

.....

.....

5 How could you make more than one copy?

.....

.....

6 Can you spot this? (Bad joke). How many model figures of Dalmation dogs can you find?

(Answer not 101!)

.....

7 In the book, Pongo and Missus stop to get a drink in Sudbury. What did they find? Where was it? (clue - look outside the door towards the church)

.....

8 When Walt Disney turned her book into a Hollywood film, Dodie got a special invitation to see around the studio where the film was being made. What was the name of the studio on her card?

.....

9 Disney changed the name of Pongo's wife, Missus in the cartoon. To what?

.....

10 What was Dodie's favourite shop in Sudbury? What is it called now? (clue - you can find it halfway down the Market Hill)

.....

Answers: 1. A Typewriter 2. Hold down 2 keys 3. Press keys to choose which half of the ribbon to type on. 4. You would need to start again with a new sheet of paper 5. With a carbon sheet between two sheets of typing paper 6. Fourteen 7. A drinking fountain over the horse trough 8. Paramount Pictures Inc 9. Perdita 10. E.W.King - Grocers, now Fat Face, on the Market Hill. How well did you do? 10 marks - Champion, 9/8 right - Great effort, 7/6 right - Well done, 5 right or below - Have another look!